

LET'S TALK NEVADA COUNTY

COMMUNITY CONVERSATION ABOUT ISOLATION

As the county is starting to open back up, it's important to remember that not everyone is able to venture out - for example, older adults, people with disabilities with underlying health conditions, people with compromised immune systems, etc. and their families, caregivers, and loved ones, among others. Some of these individuals may feel left behind and increasingly isolated as they continue to shelter in place while the rest of the county reopens.

Please join FREED and Nevada County Health and Human Services Agency for an important community conversation on isolation.
