CALIFORNIA ANIMAL RESPONSE TEAMS ARE COMING TOGETHER TO ADDRESS RESPONSE PLANNING FOR ANIMALS DURING DISASTERS!

About this Event

In recent years, California has experienced multiple disasters (wildfires, flooding, mudslides, earthquake, etc.) that have destroyed communities and have displaced thousands of people and their animals. Now community animal emergency response teams (CARTs) are joining forces to facilitate mutual-aid during these large-scale events.

SUMMIT OBJECTIVES:

- Share best practices on animal evacuation, sheltering, sheltering-in-place and other areas of animal care during disasters
- Facilitate development of a standardized training program
- Enhance networking and programmatic planning
- Evaluate needs for legislative action
